ABOUT THE CHOIR

Those who heard the Boys' Town choir last night at Chaffey might be interested in a few personal facts about the group which we learned from John Foley, who did such a fine job of accompanying the choir on the piano.

Although a choir has been a permanent part of Boys' Town, the present one has been singing together as a unit only six months and it's about that often that the personnel of the choir changes.

There are two reasons for this turnover, according to Foley. One is that boys come and go to Father Flannagan's famous school, leaving for new homes or jobs. Naturally, this cuts in heavily on the personnel of the choir as well as other activities.

The other, we thought, was quite a natural thing but amusing nevertheless. To use Foley's own words:

"Some young soprano wakes up one morning and finds himself a baritone and then we have to start looking around for another soprano."

WAYS AND MEANS

It wasn't very easy to get some of the boys to sing in the choir, Foley disclosed. Many of them thought singing was for "sissies" and wouldn't have any part of it.

But then Father Flannagan's staff pulled their one ace out of the hat and the Boys' Town choir was born. They got the star football players to sing and from that point on it was a general rush to become a member of the now famous choir.

HERE FIRST

Incidentally, Ontario was the first stop in California for the Boys' Town choir. Although they have been on tour for several months, last night was the first time that the boys appeared in this state. Earlier in the day they sang for the Ontario Rotary club.

QUITE A JOB

The choir, which is making its tour on two buses, at times has difficulty finding accommodations. Not very many hotels seem to be able to put up 49 young, scampering boys. But somehow everything seems to work out eventually and they haven't had to sleep in the buses yet. Last night they stayed in Fontana.

GET SWEATERS

Potential graduates of Chaffey high school received their emblems of achievement yesterday. We refer, of course, to the new sweaters which all senior students are sporting these days. They are bright medium blue with emblems over the pockets of the famous Tiger and the year '48 written over it.

SWAN SONG

Frank Tomkins gave out his "Swan Song" in grand style today.

Operator of the meat department in the Central Market in Upland for many years, Frank is leaving to start his own business elsewhere. Today, he borrowed the records and loud-speaking machine from J. W. Potter and brought the curtain down on his activities there amidst music and announcements. Best of luck for the future, Frank.

REMINDERS

A couple of reminders—first the Halloween party at Graber field tonight for kids and adults alike, and second, the game between the Chaffey Tigers and San Bernardino Cardinals at the same place Saturday. Both look to be class A entertainment.

FREEWAY LIMIT

A Seventh street resident in Upland called us today to make a correction. She pointed out that the proposed freeway between Upland and Ontario isn't planned on Seventh street, but between Sixth and Seventh. If it were going to be right on Seventh, all of the home owners there would oppose it, she said.

Like the Ontario school board, which voted against the route on Wednesday night, many Seventh street residents seem to be a bit concerned about the proximity of the freeway to the Edison school but indications are they will go along if everybody else continues to be in favor of it.

WEATHER

Southern Californians may expect very slight rain during the month of November, the Associated Press weather man said today, continuing with the warning that the "santa anas" will probably start blowing during the month when the dry desert air roars through the coastal mountain passes.

The forecast for today was:

Southern California: Sunny today with variable high cloudiness tonight and Saturday and local night and morning fog or low clouds near coast; slightly warmer today and tonight.

Red Hearing Called "Flop"

Says Industry Villified By Gossip, Hearsay

NEW YORK (AP)—The House committee investigation of Hollywood, says Samuel Goldwyn, was a "flop" and "certainly will not influence anyone in our town".

The Hollywood producer told a press conference yesterday that he is "astounded and outraged" because the House committee, which recessed its hearings yesterday, let the industry "be villified by gossip, innuendo and hearsay". He said he had hoped it "would not permit itself to be used as a sounding board for a smear campaign".

Denied Intent

Haakon Chevalier, mentioned yesterday in testimony before the House committee as having sought atomic information in 1942 from J. Robert Oppenheimer, denied in a Call Bulletin interview today that he talked to the professor with any view of obtaining information.

Chevalier, then a French teacher at the University of California, was named by former FBI operator Louis Russell as the man George Charles Eltenton asked to get highly secret atom information from Dr. Oppenheimer, a professor at the University of California, at the time.

In the newspaper interview today, Chevalier said:

"I did not approach Professor Oppenheimer with a view of obtaining any kind of information.

"I simply reported to him that I had had a conversation with Eltenton and told him what Eltenton had said to me.

"Mr. Oppenheimer merely dismissed the subject.

"At the time I discussed this matter with Professor Oppenheimed I was not aware of any security phase.

APPEARANCE OF WARREN HERE VERY UNLIKELY

There seemed to be little likelihood today that Gov. Earl Warren would be able to attend the regimental review of the 224th infantry in Ontario on Nov. 3.

An Associated Press story from Sacramento today states that Governor Warren and Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced that they would attend the joint funeral Monday in Salem, Ore., of Governor Earl Snell and two other top Oregon officials killed in a plane crash Tuesday.

Warren had been invited to attend the military ceremonies here but it seems unlikely that he will do so since he was a personal friend of the late Oregon governor.

Kaiser Closes One Plant, Opens Another

LOS GATOS (AP) — Henry J. Kaiser has closed down his permanente Metals Co. magnesium plant near here but can get back into production quickly if necessary, says a spokesman.

Aluminum production will be pushed, the spokesman said last night, pointing out a new reduction plant would open officially at Tacoma, Wash., today.

Kaiser has an aluminum plant at Baton Rouge, La., a soda ash plant at Lone Pine, Calif., and a reduction plant and rolling mill at Spokane, Wash., for his aluminum production in addition to the Tacoma installation.

The Black Mountain magnesium plant near here produced 82,000,000 pounds of incendiary-bomb filler and 20,000,000 pounds of magnesium ingot for aircraft parts, with a much-argued reconstruction finance corporation loan of $28,475,000 paid off with interest by 1945.

Singing of Boys' Town Choir Wins Many Hearts

By STEVE KALAGIAN

While it is not proper to completely ignore the unusual musical experience that the Boys' Town choir brought to the Chaffey Civic auditorium last night, there was something infinitely greater that captured the hearts of the more than 2,200 people who heard them.

It was the stirring cry of democracy that poured forth from the voices of 49 boys—boys of all races and colors. Boys, homeless and wayward, who under the expert direction of the Rev. Francis Schmitt blended harmoniously to sing not only the music of the church, but folk songs, lullabies, and waltzes. And as a final clincher outdid themselves with such old favorites as "Ol' Man River", "Railroad Reverie", and "Summertime".

In a world shaky with rumblings of despair and growing cynicism, Father Flanagan's choir from Omaha, Neb., brought new hope—hope that perhaps the president's committee which only two days ago called for racial equality had a chance one day of seeing its recommendation realized.

Genuine Feeling

The singing wasn't professional or finished but it was good. There were times when the young boys, all of them in their early teens, brought to their songs not only genuine feeling but masterful interpretation as well. The Rev. Fr. Schmitt deserves much of the credit for this for it is no easy task to take a group of boys and by musical fusion bring about such excellent results.

Among the folk songs, the Italian air, "Tirtomba" and Mozart's "Kathryn's Wedding Day", were the best received. The voices of tfo Negro baritones in the early American work song, "The Erie Canal", left little to be desired.

The song of the railroads, "Railroad Reverie", was particularly well done in sound effects as well as by the two tenor voices that rang out over the auditorium clear and resonant.

Of the church music, "Te Deum Laudamus" was the most popular and although sang a bit lighter than one would expect, it was undoubtedly adapted to the yet undeveloped voices of the young singers.

Special mention should be made of John Foley, who accompanied the choir on the piano. He not only displayed adequate knowledge of the keyboard but also lent moral and artistic support to the young singers.

The second encore, "Virgin Slumber Song", closed the program in the religious note on which it opened and sent the audience home with thoughts of democracy and how in Omaha, at least, the dreams of such men as Jefferson and Lincoln have become a living reality. And to some it may have seemed as if the voice of Walt Whitman had come to life and was singing again its stirring songs of freedom.

Speaking on the banker's convention, Oscar Arnold, president of the Ontario First National bank, will address members of the Ontario-Upland Real Estate board when they meet on Monday noon at the Bambu Hut.

GREASED POLES READY

Everything Set For Halloween; Police Chiefs Issue Warnings

Final steps in arrangements for the annual Chaffey district Halloween show were taken this afternoon when members of the Ontario 20-30 club set up four greased poles at Graber field for the highlight of the evening.

Undoubtedly all celebration will not be confined to the official program which is expected to draw more than 3,000 children and grownups.

In recognition of that fact, both Herbert L. Swinney, Ontario police chief, and Eugene L. Mueller, head of the Upland police department, issued warnings today that members of their departments will be on the alert for any violations of city ordinances covering property damage, tampering with automobiles and other forms of malicious mischief.

Merchants throughout the area, are forewarned from past experience of Halloween and have laid plentiful supplies of cleaning materials with which to clean the soap decorations which they have resigned themselves to finding on their show windows tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be Nov. 1, a Saturday, but tonight the pranksters will in all probability take over for Halloween.

Elks Lodge Holds Social Gathering

With 150 in attendance, members of the Ontario Elks lodge held their regular social meeting last night.

Speaker of the evening was Svend Pederson, head of the Chaffey College aviation department, who spoke briefly and showed pictures on jet-propelled planes and instructions in flying.

Announcement was made that the sale of tickets to the annual Elks Minstrel show at Chaffey would begin today, with tickets available at Atwood's store in Upland, and at central points in Ontario.

Upland Extends 'Chest' Drive

With collections amounting to $4,817.29, slightly over half of the $8,000 goal in the current drive, workers and captains for the Upland Community chest drive are still canvassing the residential areas.

Although the campaign was originally scheduled to close on Nov. 1, Chest officials said today that the drive would continue until the goal was reached. There are still a number of persons in Upland who have not been contacted, they said.

Donations are still being accepted at the Bank of America, the First National Bank of Upland, and the office of the secretary, Mrs. Velda Wiley.

Ontario - Upland Christmas Tree Lane To Be Planned

A "Christmas tree lane" spanning from the Ontario business district to Foothill boulevard in Upland was seen today in proposals advanced at a joint meeting of chamber of commerce Christmas committees held yesterday in Ontario.

Presided over by Arthur I. Peterson and Ralph Scott, chairmen respectively of the Ontario and Upland committees, the groups proposed introduction of a long range plane for future development.

"The communities have a splendid opportunity to jointly develop the unique beauty of Euclid avenue on a Yuletide theme," members declared.

The immediate proposals—which are to be submitted to the chamber's merchants committees — are for erection of small, lighted trees, sprayed with white paint and located at the center of the parkway.

Uniform decorations and lighting in both communities are proposed. Abandonment of light post decoration along A street and of overhead lighting on Euclid avenue in Ontario are other recommendations.

Overhead lights on A street, plus red bell decorations, are being considered, committee members said.

The southern terminus of the Euclid lights will be at the Red Cross building in the middle of the parkway opposite the Ontario city hall.

In Upland, the lights will stretch south from Foothill to the city boundaries between Sixth and Seventh streets.

Doris McFerran, Ontario Chamber secretary, said today the proposals would be presented at a mass meeting of merchants to be held sometime next week. The assembly is being called to consider the matter of store closing hours during the Christmas season.

A sub-committee consisting of Ralph Scott, chairman; Curtis Clay and Dwight Davis has been appointed to inquire into costs of the trees and decorations.

California Highway patrol investigators said the car's driver, Gerald Orlin Jones, Los Angeles, swerved to avoid Wentz who, seeing the car approaching, jumped back into the vehicle's path. Wentz was thrown 37 feet by the impact.

Army Promises To Investigate Cause Of Crash

A March Field air rescue party today removed the bodies of five fliers from the wreckage of an A-26 attack bomber which crashed Wednesday morning on Cucamonga peak shortly after leaving March Field on a flight to Lockheed Airport, Burbank.

The party reported evidence of an explosion and March Field authorities announced today they are launching an investigation into causes of the crash.

During rescue operations yesterday afternoon an army air rescue helicopter bearing Major Markey, commander of the March Field air rescue unit, crashed while landing near the wreckage site 6,000 feet up the 8,911-foot mountain peak. Major Markey and another occupant, Lieut. Frost, walked away from the helicopter's wreckage without injury.

No Comment

No comment on the helicopter crash, which occurred at 3:30 p. m., was forthcoming from March Field officials.

The bomber's wreckage, strewn about for some distance by the explosion's force, was sighted at 9:30 a. m. yesterday by a coast guard flying boat, which circled the wreckage until relieved at noon by a March Field scout plane.

First search party to reach the crash was a group from U. S. forestry at Camp Baldy. The group, headed by District Ranger Anselmo Lewis, included Verdie White, Cliff Plank and Ned Taylor.

First army men to arrive at the scene were two truckloads of soldiers, who drove within 1000 feet of the wreckage before stopped by terrain.

Missed Wednesday

The plane, based at Biggs Field, Tex., had been missing since Wednesday morning, shortly after taking off on a 20-minute hop to Burbank. An all-out search was underway throughout Southern California when the coast guard plane spotted the wreckage.

The victims were Major John L. Crouch, pilot, Port Arthur, Tex.; Capt. Bartholomew C. Tenore, Brooklyn, N. W.; Lt. Wilbert Muller, Paterson, N. J.; T/Sgt. T. Mobley, Biggs Field; Pvt. E. L. Kyle, El Paso, Tex.

French Cabinet Shaky Despite Vote; May Recall Blum, Reynaud

Ramadier In Move To Block DeGaullists

PARIS (AP)—Parliamentarians and even associates of Socialist Premier Paul Ramadier declared today the present middle-of-the-road French government would have to be reshuffled again soon, despite yesterday's vote of confidence in the national assembly.

The vote of the government—300 to 280, with 18 abstentions—followed two days of fist-shaking name-calling debate.

Many deputies expressed belief the government would have to be shaken up within a month so as to bring in such figures as Leon Blum, former premier and elder statesman of the Socialist party, and Paul Reynaud, an independent rightist who was the last Premier before the fall of France.

Ramadier streamlined his cabinet only last week by trimming the number of ministers from 25—12 Socialists, six popular Republicans, five radical Socialists, and two Independents—to 13: seven Socialists, three Popular Republicans, two Radical Socialists and one Independent.

Ramadier said that shakeup, on Oct. 23, was undertaken because: "We realized it was necessary in this hour to give the government the possibility of rapid decision and for this end to concentrate authority in a smaller number of hands."

Authoritative sources close to the government, however, said the reorganization was intended to exclude and ministers with possible leanings toward Gen. Charles De Gaulle, whose Rally of the Franch People scored heavily in the recent French municipal elections.

60 Percent Of Men In Chino Prison Due To Liquor

Sixty per cent of the inmates in the Chino Institute for Men are there because of liquor, Johnson E. Walker, educational director, said at the meeting of the Upland Lions club in the Upland Woman's clubhouse at noon yesterday. Average age of the men is 35 years.

Mr. Walker emphasized that 98 per cent of the inmates will be paroled and thus it is the main objective to fit them to accept their place in society. The speaker was introduced by George Miller, program chairman.

Frank Shuflett, district governor, paid an official visit to the club. Richard Johnson, local pharmacist, and Bradford Datson, local Boy Scout executive, were guests.

Conerly Leads In Offense

NEW YORK (AP) — Chucking Charlie Conerly of Mississippi continues to be the nation's football workhorse, but out in New York's Morningside Heights section they'll nominate Columbia university's Gene Rossides. And probably without any violent dissent from West Point, either.

National Collegiate Athletic bureau figures showed Conerly leading the nation for the second straight week in total offense and forward passing, and providing 59 percent of Mississippi's offense.

Rossides figured in 43 plays for 285 yards against Army, the highest yardage total registered by a single gridder in a single game in the last two years. He carried the ball 16 times for 46 yards, and completed 18 out of 27 passes for 239 yards, the latter figure also being high for the season. His 18 completions equalled the figure set earlier this fall by Gene Bourdet of Montana State against Oregon.

However, Rossides' one-game splurge failed to move him into the first ten in total offense and forward passing, as he'd had an ailing arm earlier.

City Officials To Welcome Highway Heads

The party will arrive at the Ontario city hall at 10:45, to be greeted by city officials and chamber of commerce representatives of both cities.

Although their stay will be a brief one, a short inspection tour of the proposed "boundry" route between Sixth and Seventh streets, dividing the two communities is planned. This is the route favored by official bodies in both cities.

The group will depart, after a 45-minute stay, for Riverside where a luncheon is scheduled at the Mission Inn. Members of the commission are James A. Guthrie, San Bernardino; Chester Warlow, Fresno; Harrison Baker, Pasadena; Homer Brown, Placerville; F. W. Sandelin, Ukiah and G. Arnold Smith, San Diego.

In the evening, the commission will be guests of the county board of supervisors at a dinner in San Bernardino.

Adjourn Meeting On Constitution

SANTA BARBARA (AP) —Proposals for revision of the California constitution were in the hands of 10 legislative subcommittees today following adjournment of a general meeting of the joint interim legislative committee on revision.

At the concluding session of the joint committee yesterday former Governor C. C. Young urged that the 72,000-word constitution be shortened and restored to a simpler form by elimination of a mass of statutory material. He advised against any attempt to revise the constitution as a whole, suggesting that alterations be submitted one by one to the people in order that each proposal may be judged on its merits. Otherwise, he said, the entire document might be defeated.

Phil Gibson, Chief Justice of the State Supreme court, urged that provisions on organization and jurisdiction of courts be retained in the constitution and not placed in the hands of the legislature.

The authority of the committee to attempt wholesale revision of the constitution was questioned by former Governor Culbert L. Olson. Olson urged the creation of a one-house legislature. in issuing his warning.

Set Trial Date For Man Who Kidnapped Ex-Upland Teacher

GLENDALE (AP) — A Superior court trial for Robert Parrotte, 24, on charges of robbing and kidnaping a young church organist has been set for Nov. 17.

Mrs. Ruth (Radwanski) Charles, 22, testified at preliminary hearing yesterday that Parrotte forced his way into her car as she left the church Oct. 14, slugged her with a pistol and later left her bound on the desert.

Parrotte, Greenville, Miss., carpenter, was arrested by officers after an automoble chase across the Southern California desert.

RECORD YEAR

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Farmers of the 11 western states, piling up a record income for any single year, had cash receipts from farm marketings of $2,698,513,000 in the first eight months of this year compared with 2,331,890,000 in the same period of 1946.

Proposes Seven Year Program

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) —A seven-year reclamation construction program involving expenditure of $2,148,000,000 was proposed today to the National Reclamation association by Secretary of Interior Krug.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the association's annual convention, Krug said the projected development would bring 4,000,000 acres, embracing 40,000 farms under irrigation by the end of fiscal year 1954.

This would increase the total lands now irrigated with reclamation water to over 8,000,000 acres, he told delegates to the convention.

Along with the expanded irrigation, the new construction would add 2,250,000 kilowatts of power generating capacity by 1954, or enough power for 21 cities the size of Denver, Krug explained.

The interior secretary said the proposed program — which he termed "modest" — could be accomplished within the limits of present congressional authorized projects.

Oregon Mourns Snell's Death; Service Monday

SALEM, Ore. (AP) —A stunned Oregon slowly prepared today for a funeral in state for its governor and two other top officials, killed in a hunting trip plane crash.

Services were planned for all three in the chamber of the State House of Representatives here Monday at 1:30 p.m. (PST).

The bodies of Governor Earl Snell, Secretary of State Robert S. Farrell, Jr., and State Senate President Marshall Cornett were to be brought here from the mountainous southern Oregon wilderness where their plane crashed Tuesday night. The crash also killed the pilot, Cliff Hogue.

Families of the crash victims also planned individual services. Arrangements have not been completed.

It was the most tragic plane crash in Oregon history, and the state, slowly recovering from its shock, promised a funeral in keeping.

It will be a state-wide day of mourning. Officials of the state's largest city, Portland, said all offices would be closed. Other cities were following suit. The national and state guards went into mourning and flags throughout the state were at half-mast.

The new governor, John Hubert Hall, 48, Portland attorney, elevated from speaker of the House of Representatives, took over, but many of the state's offices were paralyzed by the triple death.

It was impossible to obtain drivers' licenses, automobile licenses or numerous other certificates. These functions, carried on under the Secretary of State's supervision, will not be resumed until new Governor Hall names a successor to Farrell, probably next week.

DIRECTOR CALLS "YEARS AGO" TOPS ON COLLEGE DRAMA FARE

Ruth Tremaine Kegley, director of "Years Ago", comedy drama which will be presented by Chaffey college Nov. 6, says "It is an appealing modern American comedy which everyone will enjoy and the top of the list of plays produced on the Chaffey college stage.

Production of the comedy as an entertaining evening's feature is assured by Mrs. Kegley who has been noted for many years for her productions of American comedies. The list of plays which is topped by "Years Ago", includes "Dover Road," "Meet the Prince," "First Lady," "Holiday," "The Show-Off", "To the Ladies", and 'Merton of the Movies."

Mrs. Kegley, a graduate of Coe College, Iowa, in dramatics and speech, has had experience in many kinds of Little Theatre work. In the dramatics department of Chaffey college, she has classes in the drama and production and is adviser for the Chaffey branch of the national junior college dramatics society, Delta Psi Omega.

"Years Ago," the choice for the fall play, is the type of comedy which has pleased audiences for several years on Broadway and in amateur production. It follows, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," the comedy which was successful on Broadway and in the motion pictures. The life of the actress-author, Ruth Gordon, is as satisfying as the older play.

Cast for "Years Ago" includes ten of the outstanding dramatic students at the college. Many are familiar from their previous appearances here, but others are new to this stage.

Besides the cast, the production will be exceptional in that, for the first time, a student set director, Don Brown, assisted by Elizabeth Moses and George Blackwell, art students, is in charge of the set decoration. Miss Moses has been interested in this kind of design for some time. Blackwell won the student art prize offered last year at the Chaffey student exhibit. His paintings are displayed from time to time in the library and college building.

Balch Music Society To Hold Meeting

Members of the Valley Chamber Music society will meet at Balch hall, Scripps college, Nov. 2 at 8 p. m., with a lecture by Dr. Geiringer, professor of musical history at Boston University, as the speaker. His talk on "Joseph Haydn and the Esterhazy Family" will be illustrated with specially made records.

MAKING GOOD IN 'BAD' ROLES

AP Newsfeatures

MANY A GOOD LITTLE GIRL goes to Hollywood and makes good in the role of a bad girl on the screen. Paulette Goddard, for instance, rose to fame and fortune in "bad" woman roles. Adele Mara scores as a vicious murderess in "Blackmail", killing off several people on her way to success. Gloria Grahame was so good as a "bad" girl in "Crossfire" she was immediately cast "bad" again in "Roughshod". Susan Hayward and Dolores Del Rio show when they're good, they're very good; when they're "bad", they're not horrid.

Chaffey Choir To Sing at Institute

The Chaffey college symphonic choir of 80 voices, one of the most widely known in Southern California, will make its initial appearance of the season before the San Bernardino County Teachers Institute afternoon session at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon, Nov. 3, in Chaffey auditorium. The choir is under the direction of S. Earle Blakeslee.

The program announced includes famous compositions from both the sacred and secular fields, and presents Palestrina's "Adoramus Te", the Bach Chorale "Come O Lord With Gladness", Tschaikowski's "Cherubim Song", and the brilliant De Pearsall "When Alan a' Dale Went a Hunting".

By special request, the choir will present also, from its program of Christmas music, which is under preparation for numerous presentations, the most widely acclaimed composition of recent years, the Fred Waring-Ken Darby setting of "'Twas the Night Before Christmas".

Death Takes Mexican Youth

Juan Padilla, 3, Sonora Camp, Upland, died Tuesday at the San Bernardino county hospital following a long illness.

Surviving are his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Aurelo Padilla, of Upland; and four sisters and five brothers, all of Upland.

Rosary will be said tonight, 7:30 o'clock, at the family home, and the funeral will be held tomorrow morning, 9 o'clock, at St. Joseph's Catholic church, North Campus avenue. The Rev. Father Hyacinth Rosati will officiate at services and burial will follow at Bellevue cemetery, Ontario.

Sarovan Play Not Too Good, Reviewer Finds

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — William Saroyan's first postwar play, "Sam Ego's House or Angels Aghast", got its world premiere last night at the Circle theater and it proved as odd as its title.

Like all plays of the Fresno writer it is peopled with unusual characters. The main figure is named Utmost Urge and he has four sons: Easy, Outer, Ample and Inner.

Theh action concerns the moving of a house across the town of Angels Aghast, Calif.

The play has flashes of comedy and brilliance but lacks plot and clarity of purpose. In a program note the author explains what his work partly means: "I stink, you stink, we all stink, but we are getting used to it." This helps the reviewer to understand it, but only slightly.

The play has slight chance for Broadway. It was given a fine performance by the youthful Circle players, who were acclaimed by an audience that included Charles Chaplin and J. Carrol Naish.

Tigers Ready And Anxious To Meet San Bernardino Cardinals

Sport-O-Graphs

By DON BENSON

There seems to be a rising opinion that our Chaffey Panthers will have their toughest game when they meet Mt. San Antonio of the Pomona district at Graber Field Thanksgiving Day.

We aren't saying it will be any cake-walk or that Mt. "Sac" won't show up, but let's wait till the mountaineers meet Fullerton and Riverside before we give them the game.

Yes, they've beat Riverside 12 to 7, and really whopped San Berdoo, 49 to 6. But upon delving into these two games, let's remember that Mt. Sac beat Riverside in the last minute of play on what the boys call a "desperation pass", as they trailed 7 to 6. Riverside looked to me, at least, as much the better team, altho appearing awfully "dead" mentally and morally. Mt. "Sac" caught Riverside with a let-down from their bruising game that saw them take Fullerton into camp a week earlier.

Against the San Bernardino Braves, it should be remembered by everyone that when Mt. "Sac" ran up a 48 to 6 score against Berdoo, the Braves were shy on five of the players who made it tough on Chaffey, due to injuries they received in the Panther game. Just for example, how do you think the Panthers would fare if Anse McCullough, Orland De Ciccio, Chet Nicholson, Bill Luman and Bob Sachs were "out" because of injuries? Me, too!

That, as a comparison, is what happened to the San Berdoo Indians. Then too, maybe Berdoo didn't "wet down" the field for Pomona as they apparently did for Chaffey. Shucks, men, taking everything into consideration, Mt. "Sac" should have scored more than a measley ole 49 points!

For tough games for the Panthers, let's say that they will ALL be tough, with Fullerton being the biggest hurdle to hop. So let's take 'em one at a time and THEN TALK ABOUT THE LITTLE ROSE BOWL!

My many "bleats" against the officiating—excepting the recent Santa Ana fracas—is not apparently a local condition. Coaches and fans alike all over the country are cussing the inept and often stupid whistle tooting that takes place at most games, with all too many officials making more yards than the teams.

The Santa Ana game in our opinion, was handled very competently, considering the roughness of play. Both teams were hitting awfully hard, and it was nothing out of the way to see a couple of extra players wham into the ball player after he was stopped and the whistle blown. If they had been acting like some of the black-shirted boys, the game would have been ruined by quick whistles and looking for minor rule infractions.

We're not encouraging pilingon, unsportsmanlike conduct or such, but we do think the teams should be left alone and play their game without undue and petty whistle tootling.

A recent appeal by Dick Allen, newly elected again as the Upland Cub Scoutmaster, about needing more Cub Mothers or the Upland Cubs might have to be discontinued, should have sounded a large size note of alarm to the mothers and fathers of young and old children in Upland.

There is no pay for being a Cub den mother. It takes two hours once a week to hold and arrange the weekly Cub meeting, plus time to plan things for them —but the main thing is this: if you do take over this all-important all-American job, you'll not only be doing a worthwhile job, but you'll be amazed at the fun you will have and the interest you will develop in these nine to 12-year-old youngsters and the pride you'll take in them as they qualify for their various Cub tests. And as Allen says, any woman is eligible to be a den mother whether she has children or not and previous experience is not necessary.

Let's not let down the previous years of good work performed by the Upland Cubs, as they have an outstanding record which was made possible only because of unselfishness on the part of den mothers and officials of the Cubs.

The Cubs need five den mothers and the need is not only urgent but time is essential too, as the coming year of Cub work should be in progress now. If interested, please call Mr. and Mrs. Bert Reed, 791 North First avenue, phone 312-198. Your help will not only be appreciated by the Cubs, but the community as well. Thank you.

FAY DEAD

LONDON (AP) — William George Fay, 75-year-old Irish actor-producer and one of the founders of Dublin's Abbey theater, died Monday.

Chaffey Eleven Displays Power In Practice

"The boys are on their toes and anxious for the San Bernardino game, although they know it will probably be the toughest battle of the season," said Coach Truck Lindsey last night of his Chaffey Tigers.

In practice workouts this week the Tigers have looked every bit as thorough and competent as they did in last week's victory over Riverside, and have maintained their winning spirits.

The Tigers are prepared to unleash a triple attack against the Gate City eleven in the game at Graber field tomorrow night. With fullback Cookie Orsburn back in the field, Chaffey fans are assured their team will boast a smashing attack through the line. The Hoyos-Havener team with the excellent pass protection afforded by the Chaffey staunch forward wall make for a deadly passing combination.

In addition, the speed shown by Hoyos in his end sweeps last Friday should provide a winning margin, if it should be needed.

Prepared

The Tigers, according to Lindsey, are well aware that San Bernardino is prepared to go all-out in an effort to protest their lead in CBL competition gained by wins over Redlands and Colton.

However, the Tigers, having "found themselves" last week, are determined to demonstrate the "winning ways" to the Cards whatever the CBL standings might be.

The only dark cloud is the possibility that tackle Dave Johnson may be sidelined with a twisted ankle. However, Lindsey can fill Johnson's spot with Jerry Gonce, who broke through the Riverside line last week to block a punt, setting up what proved to be the winning points.

Breaks

Tomorrow night's game might be decided by the breaks but the Chaey eleven are set to eliminate the element of chance as far as is possible.

Chaffey rooters, warned by last week's overflow to the gridiron sidelines, should get to the game early as Chaffey officials have indicated the gates will be closed once the stadium is filled.

Berdoo Blanks Chaffey Sophs

The Chaffey sophomores, crippled by injuries to first-string players, were defeated 13-0 by a fast San Bernardino team yesterday afternoon.

The local team threatened twice, taking the ball down to the Berdoo goal line in the first and fourth quarters, but lacked a scoring punch.

The San Bernardino team scored on the first play of the second quarter when speedy halfback Ed DeLeon raced 60 yards to pay dirt on an end sweep.

The second score was made in the last quarter when fullback Ray Moore plunged over after the Cardettes had marched down the field from the 50-yard line in five plays.

POTOMOC GETS 'FEELER' FROM LITTLE BOWL'

KEYSER, W. Va. (AP)—Potomac State officials announced they had received a "feeler" from sponsors of the Little Rose Bowl football game at Pasadena, Calif.

Officials said the feeler was in the form of a request for information on Potomac's attitude toward participating in the post season game Dec. 31.

The Catamounts are undefeated, having won five straight since an opening game tie with West Liberty. College officials indicated if the Cats continue their winning pace they would be receptive to a bid to the Bowl game.

AP Expert Picks Cal, Michigan To Win Saturday

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP) — A football forecaster can make mistakes — just as the football teams of Army and Illinois did last Saturday — and that is why this corner's current picks are offered strictly on a take-or-leave basis.

This week's program:

Michigan - Illinois: Big Nine scouts say there is a distinct possibility that Illinois may repeat its surprise victory of a year ago but Bob Chappuis, Wolverine passer, should outpitch Perry Moss and that should be the difference. Michigan.

Texas - Southern Methodist: Each team defeated Rice, the September title-favorite, by two touchdowns but past records mean little in the southwest circuit. Doak Walker to be the star but Texas to win.

Navy-Notre Dame: This is the final week before the Irish take on Army and the final score will depend entirely upon how much the Notre Damers are thinking of the Cadets. Notre Dame.

California-UCLA: Cal Rossi and others of the UCLA team supposedly are ill of food poisoning. Even if he were in good health the now once-beaten Bears would have the edge. California.

Alabama-Kentucky: The Kentuckians are itching for Bowl consideration and what is a better method of getting it than by beating the perennial bowl candidate from Tuscaloosa. Kentucky.

Duke-Georgia Tech: Dinky Bowen is back in shape and he should enjoy an afternoon behind that Georgia Tech line. Georgia Tech.

Indiana-Ohio State: The Hoosiers have the Big Nine's best defense and if the Buckeyes couldn't pierce the Pitt line last week how will they handle the Hoosiers? Indiana.

Cornell-Columbia: A pair of underdogs who turned in surprises last week. Cornell's Dorset has completed 12 passes in a row but the law of averages will catch up with him here. Columbia.

Far West: Oregon over Idaho, Oregon State over Stanford, Southern California over Washington, San Diego State over Fresno State, Wyoming over Greeley State, Utah over Colorado, Denver over Brigham Young, Utah State over Montana State.

Tickets For 'Little Bowl' Now Available

Chaffey fans who are confident the Panthers will be selected to represent West Coast junior colleges in the "Little Rose Bowl" Dec. 13 at Pasadena can get their tickets now.

C. Richard Reynolds, "Little Rose Bowl" chairman for the Pasadena junior chamber of commerce, sponsor of the event, has announced that tickets are now available through the Pasadena junior chamber of commerce football committee, P. O. Box 198, Pasadena.

Although participants in the bowl game, which will match the two top jaycee teams of the nation, will not be chosen until Nov. 27, interest in the contest has been heightened in the Ontario-Upland area by the visit of members of the bowl committee to the Chaffey campus recently.

Although the purpose of their trip has not been disclosed it is known that the Bowl committee has been keeping a close watch on the Panthers since their victory over the University of California Frosh team brought them favorable write-ups by San Francisco Bay area sportswriters.

The visit to the Chaffey campus with the Panther season only half completed seems to indicate that should the Chaffey eleven finish their season undefeated and untied they will be picked as the West Coast Bowl selection.

Interest in the Bowl competition is increasing by leaps and bounds throughout the east judging by the number of telegrams received in Pasadena urging the selection of various jaycee teams there for the honor of meeting the Pacific Coast's finest.

Reynolds said yesterday that the committee is anticipating a far larger crowd than last year's 50,000 spectators who watched Compton take the Kilgore, Tex., junior college squad apart 19-0 and that fans should secure tickets early to be sure of a good seat.

Raiders Bow To Emerson

Upland jayhi's Red Raiders bowed 13-6 yesterday afternoon to Emerson in a game on the Upland junior high school gridiron.

After Emerson had scored in the second and third quarters the Red Raiders marched 65 yards to a touchdown.

Fullback Jack Thomas bore the brunt of the Raiders' drive and lugged the ball over from the two-yard line.

Emerson gained 152 yards on the ground to the locals' 120. Two completed passes out of eight attempted gained 19 yards for Upland, while Emerson's sole pass of the afternoon was complete for 20 yards.

"Feel that muscle," says Bob Ravensberg, right, and Lou Mihajlovich obliges. The two Indiana ends are known as the "Minstrel Men" of the squad. They pack a secret football weapon—laughter.

Hint Good Weather For Cal-UCLA Clash Saturday; See All-Out Game

LOS ANGELES (AP) — California's Golden Bears roll into town today for their do-or-die bid for the Rose Bowl in a conference game tomorrow with equally ambitious UCLA, and once again grid experts were stumped in efforts to pick the winner.

Good weather was forecast and crowd predictions by UCLA officials ranged past the 90,000 mark for a game that has most of the natural angles for an all-out contest in Memorial Coliseum.

Reports from Berkeley give assurance that the Bears' 39-14 walloping by Southern California last week lowered not one bit morale of Lynn Waldorf's team.

By the same token, UCLA suffered a 7-0 setback in a non-conference game with Southern Methodist, but the UCLANS paid the Mustangs a big compliment — "best team we've met this season"—and promptly got down to business for the more important clash with Cal.

The lines are evenly matched in weight; individually UCLA may have an edge with such stalwarts as Mike Dimitro at guard, big Tom Fears at end, and Don Paul as center-line backer.

And against the Bears' star backs, Jack Swaner, Johnny Graves and Jack Jensen, the Bruins can throw an array that includes Cal Rossi, Moose Myers, Jerry Shipkey and a mighty mite of a man named Al Hoisch, who could mean the difference between a loss and a win.

Hoisch stands a mere 5 feet 7, weighs a scant 145, but he is one of the fastest backs in the country and the most consistent worker in the Bruin backfield. He is noted for long gains on quick opening plays, but he can also hurl himself into the line like a tiny fullback, and with more power than some of the beefier backs.

Kickoff time: 2 p.m. (PST).

Pirate Star May Appear In Onatrio

Ralph Kiner, slugging star of the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National league, is due for an early appearance at Galvin park.

Kenny Smith, erstwhile manager of the Ontario Pirates (recently supplanted by Babe Herman), said yesterday the Bucco ace might drop out Sunday when the Pasadena Dodgers battle the Ontarians.

If he does, he'll be inserted in the lineup and play an outfield spot. But if the Alhambra ace is unable to make it this week, he's expected to show a week hence, and to put on a batting exhibition for the fans.

Rosso To Start New Backfield At Oceanside; Panthers Are Favorites

There will be new faces in the Panther backfield at the kickoff in Oceanside, but the same forward wall that has started in previous games.

Coach Ray Rosso said last night that he plans to alternate his backfield against Oceanside and will start three reserves who have proven their worth in previous games this season.

Starting at quarterback will be Ben Crawford, who came back on the practice field Tuesday after a week's absence with the flu. Instead of DeYoung, Johnny Whitham will be in the fullback spot. Ruben Ward will fill in at right half while Jerry Elliott remains at left half.

Should they get into any serious trouble, which Rosso feels is unlikely, or show signs of weariness, McCullough, Snyder and DeYoung will be at hand to move in and take over.

With a seasoned line three-deep in all positions and the alternating backfield Rosso feels that "the boys are ready and should play top-notch football at Oceanside", even though they may be weary after a three-hour bus ride.

In practice this week the Panthers have demonstrated the same accuracy in defense displayed last week against Santa Ana and the same split second timing on offensive play that has brought them to the season's half undefeated.

It was a well-trained, confident team of 38 players players that boarded the college bus this afternoon at 2 o'clock and are scheduled to arrive in Oceanside at 5. A three-hour rest should find them alert and ready for the contest by game time.

American League Meets Today

CLEVELAND (AP) — American league baseball club owners were summoned to a meeting here today by President Will Harridge to decide on what action to take in the dispute between Commissioner A. B. Chandler and Leslie O'Connor, suspended general manager of the Chicago White Sox.

O'Connor and the White Sox were denied "the privileges of the rules", which in effect is suspension, for refusal to pay a $500 fine for alleged violation of the restriction against the signing of a high school pitcher.

Jayvees Travel To Bakersfield

The Chaffey college junior varsity team treks to Bakersfield tomorrow for an afternoon game with the Bakersfield jayvees.

Making the trip will be 35 team members, many of whom have seen service with the Panther regulars and whose style of playing is almost indistinguishable from that of the senior eleven.

QUACK, QUACK, HERE COMES THE DUCKS

By HAL BOYLE

IN A MINNESOTA DUCK BLIND (AP)—The "quack-quacks" are flying by, higher than the cost of living.

Here I am below, muck-gooed to my knees, standing on a wooden board in a swamp, and waiting for a crazy duck to come down here and get himself shot.

So far none of them have been that crazy. They are up so high they must be equipped with pressure cabins.

"You should have been here yesterday," says the man on the other end of the board. "Boy, oh boy, you could knock them over with base ball bats."

This is what I get for making the mistake last night of admitting I had never been duck hunting. Somebody routed me out of bed at 4:30 a.m., and here I am shivering in the primeval ooze—the ooze the biology books say my ancestors sprang from. Well, I wish they'd sprung about two miles farther toward town.

We are lurking—did you ever try lurking for two hours in a bent position?—In swamp grass trying as much as possible to look like a grain of wild rice. We are on the edge of a big lake. In the center of the lake all the ducks between Canada and Louisiana are holding a convention.

"Quack! quack! quack! quack!" now they've got me talking that way.

From here you couldn't hit them with a coastal battery.

"You should've been here yesterday," says the hitchhiker on the aft end of the board, "Oh boy, oh boy! We could've caught them in a butterfly net—they were so low."

Every few minutes a flock takes off or comes in for a landing over the heads of hunters in blinds on the other side of the lake.

"Bang! bang! bang!!!" goes the shotgun chorus, and the ducks fall so thick you'd need an umbrella to keep them off. But over our blind they fly so high you couldn't bring them down with radar and a 90-millimeter ack ack gun.

They go twinkling south in lines of fluid rhythm, black against a golden morning sky—so many a Geiger counter would click itself to pieces trying to keep their tally.

The rising sun begins to thaw us downward from our cramped knees. The long parade of mallards, bluebills, pintails and blue-winged teal thins out. The hunters across the lake, their limit bagged, sheathe hot shotguns and head for home.

We still stand, half bent on our board, hoping at least one duck above us will drop dead of heart

SHINY NEW HOMES:

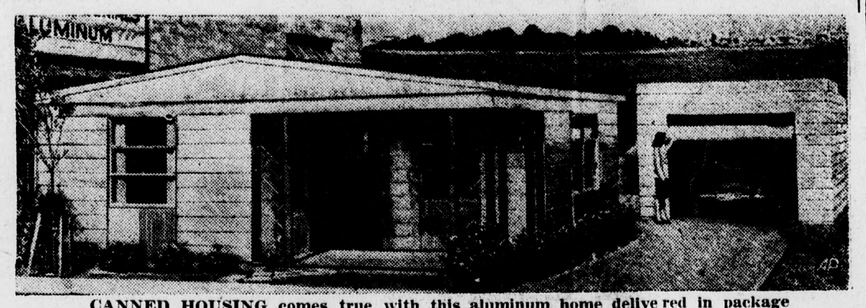

ALUMINUM PORTABLE HOUSES BID FOR THE RESORT TRADE

AP Newsfeatures

SEATTLE—Aluminum left the kitchen to win a war, and now a Seattle firm proposes a new mission for the metal—winning the peace by providing quick and inexpensive relief for the housing problem.

An aluminum house which can be set up in an estimated 100 man-hours and completed at a total cost of $2,500, has been designed. It leaves the factory as a package containing aluminum siding and roofing, with the necessary framework of wood, all cut to size. Like the structures boys make, the house emerges as the builder follows a diagrammed instruction sheet.

The houses come in four styles, according to Norpac, Inc., the smallest being a 12 x 24-foot cabin with an adjoining carport or porch.

CANNED HOUSING comes true with this aluminum home delivered in package

Carl Amussen, president of the company, suggests $5,000 as the outside cost of completing the largest two-bedroom bungalow.

The manufacturers recommend a concrete slab foundation, installed with radiant coil heating.

Amussen expects them to come into wide use as summer-resort cabins.

Although aluminum was scarce during the first years of the war, several large plants, which mushroomed to supply government aircraft needs, have put the metal on the surplus list. Aluminum is one of the few metals which actually have seen a price decline since V-J day.

The firm began by producing garages and happened into the housing line after many of its garages were being filled with families instead of automobiles.

If You See Kistner Scanning the Skies--Its Just the Pigeons

Any man you may see earnestly (and continuously) scanning the skies above Ontario or Upland on any balmy Sunday next spring will not in all probability be a holdover from the war-time air raid spotter service.

He's much more likely to be a member of the Old Baldy racing pigeon club.

The club which has been in existance now for the better part of two decades—recently completed its fall racing program, and is at the moment dormant, awaiting spring and the resumption of activities.

Virtually extinguished by the war, the club now boasts 11 members, with the prospect of more next year.

Red Hot Fan

Club president, and a red hot pigeon racing fan, is H. Warren Kistner, manager of the Ontario farm labor office.

Pigeon races, Mr. Kistner explains, are conducted as follows:

Packed in special crates, the pigeons are shipped via railway express to a designated point. (This year, the starting points for local races were Tehachapi, Bakersfield and Delano.)

Express company agents, to which pigeon races are old stuff, open the crates, and then wire back the exact time the birds were released.

Sealed Clock

When the first bird arrives at the home loft, the owner hastily removes a rubber counter mark, attached to the pigeon's leg. This he inserts in a special sealed clock, which automatically records the time of arrival.

Later, the owners gather to compare times. In determining the winner, special allowance is made for the additional distance ("overfly," breeders call it) required to reach the furthest lofts. The exact distance of each loft from all others is measured by survey.

The fastest racing pigeons may, in mountainless country, attain speeds of 70 miles per hour over long distances. In California, the average is usually less, Mr. Kistner says.

On the Delano hop, the winning local bird averaged 1082 feet per second. In the Bakersfield trial, only 870.

Bakersfield, incidentally, is the bane of local pigeon racing, Many birds, setting down on ponds in that vicinity, get caught in oil sumps and are lost or long delayed.

400 Clubs

Pigeon racing, the books say, originated in Belgium in 1818 and was introduced in the U. S. around 1875. Southern California, with more than 400 clubs, is now the acknowledged capital of the sport.

So much so that the Old Baldy club has decided to send their pigeons desertward this year. The Las Vegas-Ontario run (approximately 200 miles) will probably be the first test.

A late summer trial of the grueling 580-mile run from Salt Lake City may be put on later in the season, Mr. Kistner asserts.

Kept Alive

The sport of pigeon racing was kept alive here during the war years by Mr. Kistner and Orville Smith, who were among the few pigeon fanciers to maintain their birds in that period.

But with every passing year, the sport of pigeon racing is growing in public favor. Mr. Kistner makes a very convincing plea for its continued growth. "I don't know of a better hobby. Even with grain prices what they are, it's relatively inexpensive, and it gives a whale of a lot of satisfaction."

Wife's Bowling Ball Teaches Follow Thru

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Stanley Cronin was late for the weekly bowling session with the boys. He dashed in, whipped his bowling ball out of its bag, made a good approach to the alley . . . and went skidding far down the slippery boards with his thumb stuck in the ball.

"A mis-step?" asked one of his companions, helping him up.

"No," Cronin said ruefully, squinting at the sphere, "my wife's ball."

BEHIND IRON CURTAIN

U.S. Prestige Still High In Areas Of Soviet Sphere, Writer Reports

NEW YORK (AP)—Dan de Luce, back from a long look behind the iron curtain, finds American prestige still is high in European countries within the Soviet sphere.

"Two years aren't enough for a man to learn to shut his mind completely," said DeLuce, veteran Associated Press foreign correspondent.

"In any sort of open competition for the friendship of these people the odds would be five-to-one in our favor, except in Yugoslavia."

DeLuce returned this week from a four-month tour through Poland, Czecho-Slovakia, Hungary, Yugoslavia and Greece—countries that have been part of his news beat since 1939. He talked to hundreds of people in all classes of life, and reached this conclusion:

"We hold the top cards, and if we play them properly there is no reason for alarm or despondency. We still represent in the minds of most people throughout the world the place where human freedom has the best chance to endure.

"The American citizen acts, thinks and moves about more freely than the citizen of any other country wherever he goes."

Just as the American civilian soldier was our best ambassador during the war, De Luce believes now that our best diplomat in these countries is the peacetime American visitor. Therefore he thinks it important that they be kept open to American travel.

"That gives the people of those lands a chance to see that we aren't Wall Street devils who ride over starving children in our limousines—as their controlled press would have them believe," he said.

Wherever he traveled he found among the people a great interest in American affairs and an admiration for her production techniques. One Russian engineer joked:

"We'd like to come over and see how you do it.'

"BORROWED" CHILD RETURNED TO MOTHER AS FOOD BILL RISES

BOSTON (AP) —Cute nine-weeks-old Breita Lee Moore made one mouth too many to feed in Charles Woods family of ten—so she goes back to her own mother as soon as possible.

Police Sergeant Robert Bradley said Woods' 17-year-old married daughter, Mrs. Mildred Ryan, created the problem by becoming attached to the child on a bus trip from Orlando, Fla.

The officer said she agreed with Breita's mother, Mrs. Helen Moore of Westfield, a chance acquaintance, to take care of the child for a month while she looked for work. Mrs. Moore attached her name and address to the child.

When Mrs. Ryan got home her father explained patiently that ten Woods had to be fed—and Breita was one too many. But then no one in the family could read the address of the tot's mother.

A woman probation officer, experienced in deciphering illegible writing, could read the name and address. She reached Breita's mother, who explained the circumstances and said she would come for the child Friday.

Pending her arrival, the baby is receiving loving care at city hospital.

Electricity in your home is like that, too. Building giant turbines to generate more power won't help, if your circuits are too small to carry the load. A ten-ton truck can't travel on a bicycle path.

Your toaster, your sweeper, and all your other fine appliances can operate efficiently only when they receive enough electricity. Without it, they run slower, hotter, and you get less service for your money.

In the future you'll enjoy even more conveniences, comforts and pleasures brought to you electrically. So be sure your home plans include large enough wires to deliver full voltage at every outlet. Call your nearest Edison office for advice on adequate wiring.

Is It Necessary To Have Extensive Yule Decorations Here?

How extensive should the cities of Ontario and Upland decorate for Christmas?

Is money invested by merchants in street decorations during the Yule season necessary from the standpoint of stimulating gift purchases and in competing with other towns?

At least one or two southland communities are not going to place colored Yule lights up and down their business streets or fasten brightly colored tinsel and pasteboard replicas of Santa Claus on their light standards. One of the main factors in the question is the expense involved.

Upland and Ontario business communities are up to the point right now of deciding what to do about street decorations during the Yule season. Several thousand dollars have been spent annually each December by the two cities to dress up their business centers in the customary Yule colors.

A plan, however, is being considered locally for the two cities to unite on a plan of placing illuminated Christmas trees on Euclid avenue or of stringing Christmas lights among the trees already on the center parkway of the avenue. Upland made a start toward the Euclid avenue decorative plan last year.

An Ontario chamber of commerce committee is in favor of putting all of the Christmas lighting effort into illuminating Euclid avenue only—and not have any other Yule decorations.

The whole purpose of Christmas decorations is to attract attention to our local communities. You, Mr. and Mrs. Customer, is it necessary for business firms to do this to get you into the proper attitude for the annual holiday buying?

The merchants have been following this practice for many years in the spirit of community pride and of hometown loyalty. If the public will accept less pretentiousness in Yule street decorations here, then money usually allocated for this purpose can be used for other purposes.

Everyone is interested in the promotion of the communities to the fullest. It is possible that if all the effort were placed on the Euclid avenue decorative program the best results would be achieved. On the other hand it may be the best policy to follow the usual custom and to spread Christmas cheer through decorations in the business district as well as extending the Euclid avenue Yule-tree lighting program.

Decision on this matter is up to the merchants. The decision, however, will be more or less determined by what those in charge think of the public reaction.

On The Record

By DOROTHY THOMPSON

DOROTHY THOMPSON

The anti-warmongering resolution passed by the United Nations general assembly is a contemptible example of the way representatives of states pass their failures on to the people.

The resolution "condemns all forms of propaganda, in whatsoever country conducted, which is either likely to provoke or encourage any threat to the peace, or action of aggression."

What is "propaganda"? The publication of facts?

What is "likely" to provoke or encourage a threat to peace?

The assumption is that wars are made by talk of war. Exactly the opposite is true. Talk of war develops out of the visible presence of the danger of war arising from the actions of failures to act of powerful armed states, who then seek to cover their failures by attaching responsibility to those who expose them.

The fact is that we already are engaged in a political war, and that recourse to arms is its predictable outcome. War will not be averted by attempting to pretend that things are different from the way they are, but only by a radical change of policy: the substitution of enforceable law for armed decisions or the possibility of them in international disputes.

War is the settlement of disputes by violence. Peace is the rule of law. War is the inevitable result of power politics which operates under an inexorable law of its own. That law demands that for every dreadful weapon discovered by one powerful state a worse one must be found by its "potential" enemy. It demands that each expansion of power by one state be balanced by expansion of power by its rival.

Power politics destroys every vestige of morality. It begins by powerful states establishing themselves in "spheres of influence," through collusion at the downfall of the weak. These states then quarrel over still unsettled areas of power between them and mobilize every political means to capture these areas without open war—until the two rivalries directly confront each other. Then one commits a positive aggression (which also may be provoked), the other "defends," and afterwards scholars dispute over the "guilt" question.

Violent revolution is also war. For 100 years, the international—Communist party has preached and waged war for the unconditional surrender of the entire "bourgeoisie." It is the party of "class war." Since the founding of the Soviet Union, revolution has been an international instrument for the defense of the Russian state and the expansion of its power. For that purpose, citizens of all other states have been trained in Russia—trained in fomenting industrial strife, capturing trade unions and reformist groups, committing sabotage, mastering guerrilla tactics, inciting mob assaults, and actually handling weapons—from guns to dynamite.

Violent revolutions waged on behalf of the policies of a state have created and are fomenting civil wars, leading to interventions and international war, within the framework of power politics. Mr. Vishinsky, who talks peace, is blocking peace in Germany and Austria, and Soviet agents are making war in Italy and France. Mr. Austin, who talks peace, is making power politics leading to war.

Representatives of no country have ever proposed a comprehensive plan for defining the rights and duties of states in law, and for transferring adjudicating and enforcement powers to international judicial and enforcement agencies—thus reposing force entirely on the side of law, which is the definition of peace. On the contrary, each state is preparing to "enforce peace" on the basis of its own concept of law—which is war.

Every speech, therefore, that comes out of Lake Success is, to a greater or lesser degree, pharisaical and hypocritical.

The people of the whole world see it, and are filled with disgust and fear.

Arthur I. Peterson and Ralph Scott, Ontario and Upland chairmen respectively, will preside.

THE NATION TODAY

By MAX HALL
(For James Marlow)

WASHINGTON (AP) — This week a group of Hollywood writers have been charged with contempt of Congress because they wouldn't give "Yes-or-No" answers to the question "Are you a communist?"

That means a court trial is possible. Ultimately the case may go to the supreme court.

Already, in the yelling and pounding of one of the noisiest committee hearings ever held on Capitol Hill, both sides are preparing for this court trial.

You can see it in the asking of the question by the committee attorney, Robert E. Stripling, and in the way the witnesses reply.

What is contempt of Congress?

It's a violation of a law which says:

Whenever a person who has been summoned as a witness before a congressional committee ignores the summons or "refuses to answer any question pertinent to the question under inquiry," he shall be guilty of a misdemeanor.

He can be fined $1,000 and jailed for one year.

A sub-committee of the House un-American activities committee—in citing John Howard Lawson, Samuel Ornitz, and others for contempt—has stated flatly that they have "refused" to answer questions and therefore have violated the law.

Now, if the full committee, then the House of Representatives, and finally a Federal grand jury all agree with this view, the case will go to trial in the Federal district court here.

If this happens, the jury must decide the issue of whether these men legally did "refuse" to answer. The witnesses haven't admitted they "refused". Some have insisted they weren't refusing — they only wanted to answer in their own way.

Each witness would begin talking about his right under the constitution and the committee's right to ask such a question, and Chairman J. Parnell Thomas would begin banging his gavel and demanding a yes-or-no answer.

The witness would keep talking and Thomas would finally order him away. That's the pattern.

If a trial is held, the defendants—judging by their testimony this week — will argue that the question "are you a communist?" is unconstitutional and the committee had no right to ask it. They have insisted that their civil rights are invaded by an inquiry into their political beliefs.

There have been several recent jury convictions for contempt of Congress. None of them has yet reached the supreme court.

LOWERS PRICES, NEED POLICE PROTECTION

REVERE, Mass. (AP)—The one-man campaign of market owner Everett Wyman to reduce the cost of living requires police protection.

Wyman had to call police when customers deluged his small shop for "choice cuts of dandy brisket, short rib of beef, and fancy fowl and roasting chickens at a quarte ra pound."

He reported there was no trick to it. The campaign is conducted one day a week. His profits are small and overhead light. His wife is his only store helper and they live in a small apartment in the rear of the shop.

The store is open only four and a half days a week. The other two and a half days Wyman goes fishing.

HELP THE PARENTS

How Aid Was Given in One Case

By KATHARINE F. LENROOT
Chief, U. S. Children's Bureau
(Last of a Series)

AP Newsfeatures

Children of stable and mature parents, by and large, make good parents when their turn comes. Those whose parents were childish and inadequate are more likely than others to make poor parents. Somewhere that circle msut be broken, and it can be broken.

Here is a story that shows how it might be done. Helen, at 10, was a very unhappy little girl, dirty, ill-kempt, mean-tempered. She was always an outsider—the other children didn't want to play with her, and very probably their parents would have been worried if they had. She wasn't a "nice little girl."

Fortunately one of Helen's teachers asked for help for her, and a child welfare worker came into the picture. Poor little Helen! She was one of three children in a family headed by a feeble-minded mother. Her husband, Helen's step-father, was well-intentioned but not able. He had no education, no training, and could make out only as he managed to get odd jobs. The family, or members of it, had been known to welfare agencies for a long time, ever since Helen's mother herself had been a girl. What the support of that family had meant all over the years is something to be considered.

Deep Loyalty Used

A more unfavorable set-up could not be imagined, but that the family had one great asset. Parents and children were bound together by a deep loyalty and affection, and once that was brought to bear on Helen's behalf a change began to take place.

The first thing done was to get Helen clean, and tidy. Then patiently the child welfare worker and the teacher worked with Helen and her family in getting her language and behavior in line. She was drawn into a Camp Fire group, with a young woman in charge who took the trouble to help Helen feel as if she belonged.

Steadying Influence

Today, Helen is an attractive young woman, set on winning her nurse's cap. She is a steadying influence on her family and someday has the chance of being a "good mother" in a family of her own.

What was done in this instance could be done many times over if communities became concerned enough about children like Helen. The need is not met by sporadic efforts such as are developed in connection with 'juvenile delinquency scares." It is met by supporting generously all those agencies in the communities that share with parents the responsibility for what kind of men and women are boys and girls to become.
